

Tech Services Interest Group member meeting announcement
April 13, 2018

MLA's Technical Service Interest Group is dedicated to empowering library patrons by advancing discovery and access to information and library resources. This year, they are excited to launch a new project called, "Shining the light on un-cataloged Montana materials". This project is designed to help Montana libraries expose materials created by, for, or about Montana and Montanans.

The first step of this project will be to identify materials related to Montana that have been trapped on our libraries' back-shelves and workrooms because no catalog record could be found for them.

To make this happen they ask you to submit information about un-cataloged Montana related materials found at your library using their easy to use web form. The address to that online form is found on the backside of their insert in your conference materials. For more information visit MLA's conference webpage or email the technical service interest group. [mlaTechServicesIG@gmail.com]
